Comments:

@@@I was not aware of the fee imposed by the use of Debit Cards at Retail stores. I just felt that I was being financially savy by using Debit instead of Credit.
It was not clear until I heard about it from friends (who were not aware and had just found out). Looks like there are lot of people who don't scrutinize their monthly statement very closely. I usually just scan thru it to look for any unusual activity and miss on the fees that are part of my grocery bill. I would prefer that it was disclosed early on even at the bank.
